History

Translating learning theory and brain research into practice, Dr. Walker has created several innovative programs in curriculum and instruction. Two areas of expertise include working with “at-risk” students and balanced instruction, for which she developed the successful one-on-one tutoring program Early Literacy Intervention®, for first and second grade students, and the classroom model Accelerating Literacy®. Recently, Dr. Walker developed the REACH for Literacy program for four to seven-year-old students to insure they are developmentally prepared and have a successful beginning in school. REACH for Literacy insures children meet or exceed the National and State requirements for reading, writing, listening and speaking.

Our Research

Five years of data for the REACH for Literacy Program indicates students enter school in the top one-third of their class and maintain their reading and writing achievement throughout the primary grades. More research information as well as parents' comments may be found on our web site.

If your child is four to seven years of age and you wish to enroll him/her in reading and writing instruction contact your child's school for one-on-one tutoring lessons today!

Dear Parent,

Your child will be tutored by a person trained in my techniques and procedures to enhance and enrich your child's early literacy development in reading and writing. With one-on-one instruction, my program provides appropriate literacy experiences specific to your child's level.

I have defined four levels of instruction in the learning to read and write process. I encourage parents to start their child on Level 1 at age four and continue until the child has reached Level 4. Levels 1 & 2 involve the child in literacy experiences that lay the foundation for reading and writing success. Then, the child smoothly transitions into reading published books at Levels 3 & 4.

Sincerely,
Rena M. Walker, Ph.D.

REACH for Literacy

Enrichment in Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing

Sessions are 30 minutes, twice a week, the first three weeks of each month. Cost includes evaluation, diagnosis, consultation, and individualized lesson plans. You may choose Monday & Wednesday, or Tuesday & Thursday. Students who are five to seven may be tutored more than twice a week. Cost of tutoring is determined by the number of sessions in a given month.

“Every four-year-old should have this program!” Jacquie Yates, Director of a Preschool for 22 years, and a REACH for Literacy Teacher Tutor for ten years.

If you want your child to receive tutoring, please call the number below or 888 253.5450. We hope to meet with you and your child very soon.
